The Signal Finder

A tiny decision lens for sorting ideas fast. Put in the thing, rate it honestly, and let the score tell you whether to build, shrink, or drop it.

Example: Build a tiny website that helps me decide what to do next tonight.

This has enough momentum and finishability to make sense tonight. Ship the smallest good version.

Momentum wins | Small surface area | Worth the time

Rule of thumb: if usefulness is high but finishability is low, shrink the scope until you can ship it in one sitting.
