Bear Grylls — Equity & Exclusivity Conflict Map

INTERNAL REFERENCE • APRIL 2026 • SCREEN NEW PITCHES AGAINST THIS BEFORE TAKING TO BEAR

Bear now has equity or exclusivity in enough categories that a new pitch can conflict with an existing stake without anyone realising. This is a first screen — not legal advice, but a flag system.

Rule: Before pitching Bear on anything, run it against this map first.

Three conflicts that need resolving before May 21

1. Modern Savage vs Organised Nutrition

Both are organ supplement products. If Bear has equity in Organised and is also the face of Modern Savage, there is a conflict — either legal or reputational. Jesse handles Organised directly and has not discussed it with Junior, which suggests sensitivity. Before Modern Savage scales its Bear-branded marketing, this needs to be understood — ideally resolved with CJ or Raemy.

2. Mettle co-founder exclusivity — what does it actually cover?

Bear is a co-founder, not just an ambassador. Co-founder agreements almost always include exclusivity on competing products. The question is how "competing" is defined. If it's narrow (mental fitness apps only), Mettle may not block much. If it's broad (any men's wellness brand), it could conflict with Ted's Health, Modern Savage's mental resilience content, and every coaching or wellbeing pitch that comes in. CJ or legal need to clarify the exact exclusivity scope.

3. Natural Studios exit option + EBG

Bear holds 39% of Natural Studios and has an exit option at end of 2026. EBG's $25K/month is tied to Running Wild and Adventure Garage — both Natural Studios productions. If Bear exercises the exit option, EBG's standing becomes unclear. This needs to be understood before the window arrives in December 2026 — it's a structurally important question for the May 4 EBG call too.
